

Prior to June 5, 2019, there were 12 different categories under which Americans were allowed travel to Cuba. As of June 5, 2019, the People-to-People category has been eliminated. The People-to-People provision has been the category used by the majority of American tour operators and cruise lines offering travel to Cuba.

Ya'lla Tours USA operates under provisions other than the People-to-People, and has done so since 2002. The new restriction does not affect us. We will continue to offer private travel to Cuba for any sized travel party, as well as scheduled small-group travel.
